U. S. Office of chief of Air corps (War dept.)
The administrative body in charge of the Air corps of the army.
A temporary organization known as the Air service was effected in March 1919, by merging the Division of military aeronautics, War department, and the Bureau of aircraft production. Not until July 11, 1919 was legislative authorization for its existence as a separate organization secured, and that only a temporary grant until June 30, 1920.
The act approved June 4, 1920, created the Air service, whose administrative organization was designated "Office of chief of Air service," and the flying personnel, "Air service" (Statutes-at-large, 66th Cong., 3d sess., chap. 227)
